REMARKS

1. On 28 February 1951, 20 Soviet soldiers wearing red-bordered black epaulets descended from a train in Coepfritz (O 49/R 64). They were picked up at the railroad station by truck [redacted]

2. No Soviet units were stationed in Coepfritz proper. [redacted] 25X1 Allentsteig (O 49/R 53), Zwettl (O 49/R 42) and Doellersheim (O 49/R 53) were the nearest towns in which Soviet troops were stationed.

3. The afternoon of 28 February, several soldiers entered the restaurant at the railroad station in Coepfritz. They had come on motor vehicle [redacted] and, according to the proprietress of the restaurant, were stationed at the troop training grounds of Doellersheim. 25X1 * Comment. Some elements of the 95th Gds Mts Rifl Div, [redacted] 25X1 are believed to be permanently stationed in the Doellersheim-Allentsteig area. However, since two motor vehicles [redacted] 25X1 of the 13th Gds Mocz Div were also observed there, it seems possible that small units of this division have also been temporarily in this area for short field exercises. Similar information on movement of units to troop training grounds for short periods of firing practice has been received from the Soviet Zone of Germany. The Soviet personnel in Zwettl belonged to the Soviet town kommandatura at 7 Stalinplatz.
